Forget the pollsters and pundits – America can speak for itself. Are you ready to undertake an epic two-wheeled journey through all 50 states to hear what our nation has to say? Ride along with author Chris Register for 16,000 miles of pedal-powered exploration, as he seeks out the truth about where we stand.

Chris Register served in the Peace Corps, graduated Georgetown Law, and litigated multiparty cases in federal court before embarking on his Conversations With US odyssey.

CONVERSATIONS with US

"Register's writing style lets the subject do the talking, and gives the reader a sense of being part of the conversations. It's the stories and voices of those subjects that make this book compelling. Every day brings a new person with a story to tell -- and they are all unique. This device, which kept me staying up late a few times, makes you want to find out who's next and what they have to say. And what they had to say, gave me hope for the future."

"... when I started reading Conversations With US: Great Lakes States, I kept my tin of book darts at hand so I could mark any bits that I found noteworthy or delightful and might want to quote in a review. Reader, I emptied the tin."
